June / July 2007

Injury Prevention Information Centre
School of Population Health
University of Auckland
Information & Resource Unit

IPLit Update is a monthly bulletin to keep you up to date with the latest injury prevention research and best practice from New Zealand and around the world.

The IPLit database of all reports, articles and other resources indexed since the early 1990s and a list of all IPRC publications can now be accessed from the IPRC homepage at: http://iplit.fmhs.auckland.ac.nz/search\_menu.htm

This is a new page which links to the IPLit and INZED search pages, which all have a new look with Simple and Advanced search functions.

A guide to the IPLit database is at:

Journal of Paediatrics and Child Health, 2007, 43(6): 486-8

The aim of this study was to determine whether helmet laws and safety campaigns have had an impact on bicycle injuries in children. A comparison of bicycle injury presentations at Whakatane Hospital during the periods 1982-1986 and 1998-2005 found that the rate of injury increased but that the injuries from collisions with moving vehicles decreased and the proportion of serious head injuries declined.

An intervention method for occupational safety in farming - evaluation of the effect and process [Article]

Applied Ergonomics, 2007, 38(3): 357-368

An evaluation of an intervention to reduce farming injuries in Sweden, in which eighty-eight farmers and farm workers in nine groups gathered on seven occasions during 1 year. The aim was to develop socially supportive networks for the discussion of risk management. Some groups analysed injury incidents, and in addition three groups were given information on risks and accident consequences. The networks were found to be beneficial. Analysing incidents/accidents, but not receiving information, showed a more positive outcome.

The elderly and mobility: a review of the literature [Literature review] Melbourne: Monash University
Accident Research Centre, 2006, 118pp. 0732623251 Report no. 255

This report reviews international literature to assess current knowledge relating to the complex relationships between changing driving and travel patterns, ageing, health status and reduced mobility and the impact of poor mobility on quality of life for older people. The findings from the literature review were used to compile a set of "best practice" recommendations to manage the safe mobility of older road users.
