

ADVANCED SERIES

Obstetric Anal Sphincter Injury Workshop

Dates for 2018: 15 March and 27 September

Convened by:

Louise Tomlinson

Obstetrician and Gynaecologist, Middlemore Hospital

Sylvia Lin

Obstetrician and Gynaecologist, Waikato Hospital

Obstetric anal sphincter disruption is a major cause of anal incontinence. There is compelling evidence that clinicians are inadequately trained to recognise and repair the anal sphincter.

This workshop is essential for all doctors practising obstetrics and repairing perineal tears.

Topics include:

- Applied anatomy
- Physiology & investigations
- Evidence based practice
- Repair techniques & video demonstrations
- Practical Lab with hands on experience

The course is limited to 12 participants on a “first come first serve” basis. NZ Trainees have priority.

Venue

Advanced Clinical Skills Centre
Faculty of Medical and Health Sciences,
Building 505, Ground floor,
85 Park Road, Grafton,
Auckland 1023
